U.S. Agrees to Let Japan Try GI Case

Washington, June 4 (AP)—The United States agreed today to let a Japanese court try an American soldier charged with killing a Japanese woman.

By the decision announced at the Pentagon, the United States drops any claim to the right to try Specialist 3.C. William C. Girard by court-martial.

In Full Accord

The joint statement by Secretary of State Dulles and Secretary of Defense Wilson said the agreement was made after consideration by a joint United States-Japan committee

The decision was made under terms of the status of forces agreement between the two countries.

The announcement said it "was reached in full accord with procedures established by the treaty and agreement, and that in order to preserve the integrity of the pledges of the United States, this determination by the joint committee must be carried out."

Was Scavenging Metal

The Japanese woman, Mrs. Naka Sakai, 46, was shot while scavenging scrap metal at a United States army firing range Jan. 30.

Girard was charged with shooting the woman—while attempting to chase the scavengers away—with an empty brass cartridge case which he had stuffed into a grenade launcher.

Japansese authorities, in contending they should have jurisdiction, in the case, asserted that Girard was off duty at the time of the incident—a legal point involved in the status of forces agreement.

Faces Prison Term

However, the defense department in its statement today said that Girard and another soldier, Specialist 3/C Victor M. Nickel, "were ordered" by a platoon leader to guard a machinegun and other equipment—thus making the point that Girard was on duty.

The accusation under which the 21-year-old American now faces Japanese trial carries a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison.

Girard has been quoted by Army authorities as saying he "may" have fired the shot. But he denies he intended to kill. He says he only intended to frighten the scavengers away.

Firing not Authorized

Today's statement said:

"Girard's action in firing empty shell cases from the rifle grenade launcher was not authorized."

The statement added that Girard "asserted that he fired from the waist, intending only to frighten the Japanese civilians. Others stated, but Girard denied, that empty shell cases were thrown out to entice the Japanese to approach."

Scavenging for scrap metal is a common means of livelihood among Japanese in the neighborhood of the base where the shooting took place. The scavengers operate in organized groups there.

Many Implications

The long joint statement on the decision of the United States said at the outset the case "has far-reaching implications involving as it does the good faith of the United States in carrying out a joint decision reached under procedures established by treaty and agreement with Japan."

"The issue arose as to whether or not Girard should be tried by United States court martial or by a Japanese court. After careful deliberation in the joint U. S.-Japan committee, established by the two governments pursuant to treaty arrangements, the U. S. representative on this committee was authorized to agree, and on May 16, 1957, did agree that the United States would not exercise its asserted right of primary jurisdiction in this case. In view of this completed action, attempting to prolong the dispute over the jurisdiction issue would create a situation which could basically affect the United States' relations not only with Japan, but also with many other nations."

Cleaver Case Due On Monday

Counsel Granted Time for Probe

An application for a one week extension in the Franklin D. Cleaver murder trial was granted Monday afternoon by County Judge Louis G. Bruhn. The extension was opposed by District Attorney Howard C. St. John, who said the case had been set down for trial at the opening of the June session of the adjourned April term.

However Judge Bruhn granted the postponement until next Monday, June 10, at 10 a. m. in order to allow additional time for counsel for defendant to complete an investigation.

Two Deaths Hamper Case

Robert Ortale, who with Francis X. Tucker was assigned to defendant as counsel, asked the court for the week extension. He said it was not an attempt to delay the trial but he said the defendant had been in this area only six months and was little known here. He had been a resident of Delaware county and the investigation there required time.

He also said two deaths had hampered the preparation for trial and he called attention of the court to the seriousness of the charge and the need for complete investigation of facts surrounding the alleged murder.

DA Would Go On

St. John opposed the postponment. He said counsel had been assigned last December and in February the case was moved for trial in April and his office had consented to that adjournment. In April the case was set down for trial on the opening day of the adjourned term in June. He said The People had been ready at all times and while he did not want to prejudice the defendant, he felt the case should go on.

Arrested at Downsville

Cleaver is charged with shooting his wife, Dixie, 22, last November as she sat in a car on central Broadway. After the alleged shooting Cleaver was apprehended at the home of his parents in Downsville. The grand jury returned a first degree murder charge. The Cleavers had not been living together for some time and it is believed, officials say that the shooting took place after an effort at reconciliation.

Judge Bruhn granted the week's postponment and directed that the case proceed at 10 a. m. on Monday, June 10.

Harriman Makes Charges Against GOP on Session

New York, June 4 (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman accuses the state Republican leadership of using what he calls a "lie" technique against him in advance of the special legislative session scheduled for next Monday.

He also says he expects the special session to demonstrate whether the Republicans are sincerely interested in the welfare of the state's wage earners.

Harriman says the Republicans have resorted to "lie" tactics in an attempt to swing public support away from his efforts to win enactment of increased unemployment insurance and workmen's compensation benefits "without strings attached."

The governor made the charge last night at two labor meetings. One was a rally sponsored by the AFL Central Trades and Labor Council and the New York City CIO Council. The other was a meeting of 900 shop stewards of the Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union.

Harriman was presented with bundles of petitions said to bear the names of 110,000 persons supporting his proposed legislation. Union officials said this was only the first batch, and they predicted a total of one million names.

Plans were made at the joint AFL-CIO meeting for a labor union conference in Albany to coincide with the legislative session.

The unemployment insurance and workmen's compensation bills are the main issues before

Secret Files Must Be Opened: Ruling

Washington, June 4 (AP)—The Supreme Court(establishing an important new rule of law, says secret files bearing on criminal cases must be produced by the government or the prosecution must be dropped.

That point was made by Justice Brennan yesterday in an opinion which ordered a new trial for Clinton E. Jencks, one-time official of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

In a sharp dissenting opinion, Justice Clark said the new ruling has opened government files to the criminal and "afforded him a Roman holiday for rummaging through confidential information as well as vital national secrets."

Historic Decision

In an historic 4-2 decision, the court ruled the du Pont Company's 23 per cent stock interest in General Motors Corp. violated the Clayton antitrust act.

Justice Brennan, writing for the majority, said du Pont used the stock "to entrench itself as the primary supplier of General Motors' requirements for automotive finishes and fabrics." The case goes back to Federal District Court which will determine what action du Pont must take. Justice Burton and Frankfurter dissented, and Justices Clark, Harlan and Whitaker did not participate.

7-1 for New Trial

Jencks, whose case resulted in the new secret file run, was convicted in U. S. District Court in El Paso, Tex., on charges he made false denial of Communist party membership. He got a five-year sentence, but later contended he should have a new trial because of testimony given against him by turnabout witness Harvey Matusow.

The court voted 7-1 for the new trial, but only five of the justices joined in ordering the new rule, of which Brennan wrote:

"We hold that the criminal action must be dismissed when the government, on the ground of privilege, elects not to comply with an order to produce, for the accused's inspection and for admission in evidence, relevant statements or reports in its possession of government witnesses touching the subject matter of their testimony at the trial."

Burden Is Government's

"The burden is the government's, not to be shifted to the trial judge, to decide whether the public prejudice of allowing the crime to go unpunished is

Red Cross Will Elect Directors At June 12 Dinner

Reservations for the Red Cross annual dinner-meeting, which will be held at the Fair Street Reformed Church, Wednesday, June 12 at 6:45 p. m., are being accepted at the chapter.

The chairman of the nominating committee, Elmer A. Rylance, will present 13 names for election and re-election to the Board of Directors.

Henry C. Bloss, director of Operation Mercy at Camp Kilmer, N. J., will be the guest speaker. Since November 16, 1956 Mr. Bloss has served as director of Hungarian Relief Operations at Camp Kilmer and will explain American Red Cross activities in connection with this operation both at home and overseas.

Has Served Overseas

Mr. Bloss received his education at Allentown Prep School and Bucknell University. He joined the American National Red Cross in 1942 and has been with service to military installations since that time. As a Red Cross field director he served at many military installations both in the United States and overseas directing the Red Cross services to military personnel and dependents. Mr. Bloss' present assignment is that of assistant director, Service to Military Installations, Eastern Area, and he is responsible for the administration and supervision of all Red Cross activities at military installations in Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Connecticut. He is now on special assignment at Camp Kilmer to direct the American Red Cross services for Hungarian refugees on Operation Mercy.

The local chapter chairman, Mrs. William H. Merrill, cordially extends an invitation to the public to attend this meeting. Reservations will be accepted at the chapter up to Friday, June 7.

Merchants Will Discuss Promotional Program

Over one thousand retail and service outlets in Kingston and the nearby area form a nucleus which attracts regular customers from as far as 50 miles. Area attractions, resort facilities and industries bring businessmen, visitors and vacationers from all parts of the world. These facts, plus a growing local population are causing many businessmen to modernize and enlarge their establishments and offer a still wider selection of goods and services. In addition, many new commercial enterprises and professional offices have been attracted.

An aggressive promotional program is being proposed by the Retail Merchants Committee of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce to let more people know about the changes which have taken place, as well as the advantages and convenience of doing business and obtaining services locally.

THE PROPOSED PLAN will be presented at a mass meeting of all retail merchants and others interested in developing a cooperative and coordinated program at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, June 5 in the Court Room of the City Hall on Broadway in Kingston. A spokesman made it very clear that attendance is not limited to members of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber of Commerce spokesman stated that for many years merchants in various business districts seemed to believe that they could not work together for the common good because they were competitive. Now it appears that the leaders realize that having several business districts is really an advantage because it distributes the concentration of business and gives the customer a wider selection to choose from.

As previosuly announced, Richard Mitchell, chairman of the Retail Merchants Division of the Poughkeepsie Chamber of Commerce, will speak on "Organizing Retailers for Effective Action," at the mass meeting Wednesday night.

CLYDE WONDERLY, chairman of the local Chamber of Commerce Retail Committee, will preside at the meeting. He stated that the sub-committee chairmen will report on possible activities and copies of the proposed plan of organization will be distributed and discussed. "No effort will be made to organize Wednesday night. This is an explanatory meeting," Wonderly stated. After each district group of businessmen has had time to discuss the proposal another meeting will be held to organize.

Sees President Forced To Lower Next Budget

Big Nuclear Radiation Lab Planned at Beacon

New York, June 4 (AP)—The Texas Co. plans one of the world's largest and most fully equipped nuclear radiation laboratories at its research center in Beacon, N. Y.

Frederick H. Holmes, vice president in charge of the company's research and technical department, said yesterday construction will start immediately, with completion scheduled for April 1958.

Costs Not Announced

Construction costs were not given.

"Texaco intends to explore possibilities of using nuclear energy in petroleum operations," Holmes said. "In addition, we hope to make material contributions to new fundamental knowledge of the world."

Texaco scientists hope to enlarge their understanding of how greases and oils lubricate, how wear and corrosion occur, why certain jet fuels are better than others, he added.

Three Different Sources

The 8,000-square foot lab building, which has one and three-story sections, will house three different radiation sources. These will be a 6-million-volt linear accelerator, first of its kind in the petroleum industry; a 3-million-volt Van Graaff generator, and a 35,000 Curie Cobalt 60 source of gamma radiation.

The Cobalt 60 source, one of the largest of its kind in existence, has been under irradiation for three years at the Canadian Chalk river NFX (National Research Experiment) atomic reactor.

Trained Scientists

Texaco scientists in charge of the operation of the lab already have received considerable training at the Brookhaven, Argonne and Oak Ridge National Laboratories at the Atomic Energy Commission, the Universities of Michigan and Rochester and other research centers.

The new laboratory was engineered by the Vitro Corp. of America.

Scott Questions Trooper License After Ticketing

A Kingston man who got ticketed recently by a state trooper has given the New York State Bureau of Motor Vehicles a bit of a turn by questioning the trooper's driver's license.

Joseph Scott a Kingston merchant who also happens to be president of the Ulster County Safety Council, was ticketed for crossing a double line on Route 9W West Park, in April. The trooper was Wally H. Mahan Jr., of the Highland state police.

Scott maintained at the time that he was forced to cross the double line to avoid collision with a truck ahead of him.

In a reversal of role he questioned the trooper's driver's license and made an inquiry to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

The bureau reported that it had a record of the car registration to Trooper Mahan but no record of a driver's license.

Mahan claimed he had a license and produced its number—496-9159, saing that it expired in September, 1958.

After Trooper Mahan produced the number of his license Scott suggested that records of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles be queried again, saying "You have to go by official records."

Trooper Mahan is now on vacation which he is reportedly spending at Ithaca where his wife is a student at Cornell University.

An Albany spokesman reported that three hours of searching had failed to produce any license issued to Trooper Mahan but that the search was continuing. The search was rendered more difficult because the department no longer keeps a numercial file of operators' license it was said.

Real Difficulty

Rochester, N. Y., June 4 (AP) — Dr. Michael Cronmiller wasn't home when Dr. Charles Lolande called, but six-year-old James Robert answered the telephone.

"Could you take a message for your father," asked Dr. Lolande.

"Yes sir," said James Robert. "Wait till I get a pencil."

Dr. Lolande waited.

James Robert returned to the telephone: "The point is broken. I'll get another one."

Dr. Lolande waited.

James Robert came back again: "I'm here," he said, "but do you know what?"

"No," said Dr. Lolande.

"I can't write," said James Robert.

Party Funds Slow, Budget Is Blamed

Washington, June 4 (AP)—The Republican High Command told President Eisenhower today the party is experiencing "some difficulty in obtaining funds" because some previous large contributors feel the administration's budget "is too high."

Meade Alcorn, chairman of the GOP National Committee, informed newsmen that he and a group of colleagues gave Eisenhower that report at a 40-minute White House conference.

President Knows

As for the difficulty in obtaining funds from "some large contributors," Alcorn said the President remarked he "had heard that, too."

Won't Make, Ike Says

Asked just how serious the situation seems to be, Alcorn replied:

"In the long run, I don't think it will make any difference."

He went on to say that in his opinion the now-reluctant large contributors will come to realize that there is no alternative to the administration's $71,800,000,000 spending program for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Alcorn called on Eisenhower to report on six regional GOP conferences the national committee has sponsored in various sections of the country. He was accompanied by Sen. Schoeppel of Kansas, chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee; Rep. Simpson of Pennsylvania, who heads the House GOP Congressional Campaign Committee; and Miss Bertha Adkins, assistant to Alcorn in charge of the party's women's activities.

Preliminary to Rally

The White House session was preliminary to a party rally here Thursday and Friday.

The GOP leaders exuded optimism over chances of recapturing control of Congress and stressed party unity behind the administration legislative program.

But some party men say those who visited Eisenhower are more concerned over the budget revolt than they are willing to admit publicly.

License Is Refused

New York, June 4 (AP)—State Harness Racing Commissioner George P. Monaghan today refused to issue a racing license to T. Proctor Eldred, Utica banker, for allegedly making false statements in his application.

Beck Jr. Balks Over Fund Quiz; Faces Contempt

Washington, June 4 (AP)—Dave Beck Jr., like his father before him, took the Fifth Amendment today and refused to tell Senate rackets investigators whether he had chiseled off Teamsters Union funds.

The committee ordered a contempt case against him contending he had made "frivolous" use of the amendment's protection against self-incrimination.

Other Faces Charge

And it also ordered contempt proceeding against Joseph McEvoy, of Seattle, for refusing to answer questions.

McEvoy is one of the clan of Beck relatives whose names have come into the committee's digging into what it says is misuse of more than $370,000 of union funds by the senior Beck, president of the Teamsters. He is married to a niece of Mrs. Dave Beck Sr.

Beck Junior invoked the Fifth Amendment 69 times in less than 20 minutes ,and snickered at times as he did so.

"You thing it's humorous, Mr. Beck?" Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy of the committee asked him at one point.

Grin Fades Fast

"No sir," Beck replied, his grin fading fast.

The younger Beck, a 36-year-old, bulgy 200-pounder, refused to answer a series of questions as to whether he had received various sums as salary and expenses from the union.

Some of the other questions he refused to answer concerned alleged purchases with union funds of such personal items as a vacuum cleaner, television set, camera equipment, aluminum boats,

Dunbar Quits After Day, Ackert Saugerties Clerk

John J. Dunbar has resigned as village clerk of Saugerties and Ernest R. Ackert of Katsbaan has been named successor.

Named at a special meeting of the village board on May 27 to succeed Gerald L. Snyder who resigned to accept a position with a trucking firm, John J. Dunbar served only one day and then submitted his resignation on the grounds he had not realized what the duties as clerk entailed and also on the grounds the position was too confining.

A special meeting of the village board was held Sunday evening, June 2, and at that time Mr. Ackert was appointed. Ackert has served in the coast guard, was a bookkeeper and accountant with the Saugerties Sales and Service and has had wide experience in office work. The office was opened for business on Monday morning, Mayor Holmes said without any interruption in service.

A regular meeting of the village board was held Monday evening. Consent was given the Saugerties Board of Education to purchase village water for the new school which is to be erected on the former Knaust property north of the village off Washington avenue. The board of education will make its own connections with the village system, Mayor Holmes said, and the village will sell the water to the school board.

Action was delayed on a request by the board of education for sewage connections with the village system. It was the opinion of the village board that a survey should be made by a competent engineer to ascertain whether the village system will be able to take care of the additional service. An investigation of the cost will also be made.

The village board also voted to begin collection of taxes on June 10.

Other routine business was conducted.

Economy Drive Is His Basis

Other Forecast: Higher Spending

Washington, June 4 (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D.-Va.) predicted today the current economy drive will force President Eisenhower to cut his next budget even if spending remains high in the year ahead.

Byrd, who heads the Senate Finance Committee, expressed confidence Congress will make "significant" reductions in the more than 73 billion dollars in new money requests submitted by Eisenhower in January.

But actual government outlays are not fully controlled by the lawmakers' action on such requests. Previous Congresses have made available a huge backlog of funds on which the President can draw if he chooses to carry out his proposed $71,800,000,000 spending program.

More Spending Forecast

Byrd said this situation may prevent the kind of 6½ billion dollar lowering in spending he wants. Two congressional groups have forecast that spending will go even higher than Eisenhower estimated in January.

"But in my judgment the economy campaign is going to force the President to reduce his budget next year," Byrd said. "That will be an election year and unless he cuts spending, there won't be any room for the kind of substantial tax reduction the American people want.

Would Be Blamed

"If he submits a budget as high as this year's, Congress might cut taxes anyway and the President would have to share the blame for any deficit that occurred."

Sen. Kerr (D.-Okla.), a finance committeeman, said in a separate interview he believes Congress will lop about 2½ million dollars off Eisenhower's new money requests. But he agreed with Byrd that the action won't necessarily reduce the spending level.

Sen. Bennett (R.-Utah), another member of the finance committee and former president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers (NAM), said he fears Congress will have difficulties in making any economies stick.

To Ask, Get More

"I'm afraid the departments will be back for more funds later and get much of what they ask for," he said.

Bennett said he was voting for most of the proposed reductions in Eisenhower's money requests because he feels the effect will be to pinch down future spending.

"I don't know that our economy can't stand spending of the level the President p... Bennet said. "But we can't just go on increasing these budgets year after year. We've got to level off spending and this is a good time to start."

Vote Is 67-0

Ball Clubs Tell Wagner Nothing Definite on Shift

New York, June 4 (AP)—Mayor Robert Wagner said following a conference today that the owners of the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers baseball clubs had assured him they had no definite commitments to move to the Pacific coast.

The mayor and other city officials met for an hour and 20 minutes with Horace Stoneham, owner of the Giants, and Walter O'Malley, owner of the Brooklyn Dodgers, to discuss prospects of keeping their baseball franchises in New York.

The National League has given both the Giants and Dodgers permission to move to San Francisco and Los Angeles, respectively, if they so decide and can work out the details.

O'Malley said after the conference, "there has been no change in the situation. My mind still is open. However, I can't make a definite decision on a hypothetical situation."

The Brooklyn executive added: "I have been patient for ten years. My patience is running out. I am discouraged."

Taylor Advises Mobile Reserves In Point Speech

West Point, N. Y., June 4 (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor said today it is of utmost importance "to maintain mobile strategic reserves of army forces ready to suppress any 'brush fire' quickly before it can spread."

And, he added, a nuclear conflagration "must not be allowed to occur."

Talks to Graduates

In a speech prepared for graduation exercises at the U. S. Military Academy here, the army chief of staff drew comparison of the "down-at-the-heel" army he enfered 35 years ago and the present million-man force.

Taylor said that when he was graduated from the academy in 1922 the army consisted of fewer than 150,000 men and operated under an annual budget of 350 million dollars.

Today the approximately one million men of the army are backed by a 9½ billion dollar budget, he added.

Back in 1922, said the general, "nobody in government or private life worried much about these down-at-the-heel conditions in the army, because it was pretty well accepted that wars, and hence armies were largely things of the past." That was four years after the end of World War 1.

Taylor continued:

Called Potent Instrument

"There is no doubt today as to the enduring need for a combat-ready army which, together with the other services, constitutes a potent instrument of policy in dealing with the so-called cold war, the limited or the general war.

"In the present period of cold war, it makes an indispensable contribution in encouraging our allies and in restraining our potential foes . . .

"The army is prepared to deal with small wars, the so-called 'brush fires,' which may spring up without warning. We are particulary impressed with the growing need for this kind of readiness."

The Big Sleep

Albuquerque, N. M. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Joe Martines went out on a "family trouble" call. The woman led him into a bedroom, pointed to her husband and declared: "He won't get out of bed!" Martinez said he asked the man to get up, but the man replied: "Why? I'm not going anywhere." The deputy left and the man turned over to settle down for a longer snooze.

PROFILE OF ATOMIC PLANE—Here, generally, is what the nuclear-powered airplane may look like when it is built for the U.S. Air Force. These drawings were made public by F. A. Cleveland of Marietta, Ga., and Clarence L. Johnson of Burbank, Calif., Lockheed Aircraft scientists. Top drawing, looking down on plane, shows power plant inside of fuselage, instead of on the wings. The wings will be thin, clean, efficient. Drawing below, a side view, shows crew compartment far removed from the atomic reactor. Feasibility of an atomic-powered plane becomes more a certainty as scientists solve some of the difficult problems of protecting the crew from radiation.

SaysGOP Measure Would Cost State Over 10 Million

Buffalo, N. Y., June 4 (AP)—The Republicans' unemployment insurance bill would cost the state's long-range highway program more than 10 million dollars, a Harriman administration official said today.

John W. Johnson, state superintendent of public works, said the GOP measure would mean higher costs to road construction companies, which would pass them along to the state during the 12-year program.

"We need this money for highways," said Johnson in opposing the Republican legislation.

Address to Engineers

His remarks were contained in a speech prepared for delivery at the American Society of Civil Engineers' annual convention.

Gov. Harriman has called the Legislature into special session next Monday to consider new bills to raise top weekly benefits of unemployment insurance and workmen's compensation from $36 to $45, without making any other changes in these laws.

In April, he vetoed the Republicans' benefit-boosting bills because of other provisions tied to them. The jobless-pay measure would have raised the payroll tax on seasonal employers beyond that on other industries. The garment and construction trades opposed the bill.

Johnson said the state could "ill afford to place special tax burdens on private contractors at a time when every effort is being made to keep construction costs at the lowest possible level."

Hits Other Bill

He also criticized another GOP bill passed at the reguar session, one that would have required the state to reimburse private utiities for the cost of relocating facilities along highway projects.

Harriman vetoed the measure.

"Since these utilities are occupying the state's right of way free of charge," Johnson said, "we are firmly convinced that there is no injustice in asking them to bear relocation costs."

Wickwire Spencer Steel Division of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Corp. also relighted a furnace and is now operating three of its four units. Bethlehem Steel Corp., in Lackawanna, was still operating with 33 of its 35 open hearths, one less than usually operated.

ADENAUER'S VISIT

In these times it is never unimportant when West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer pays a visit to the United States. And there are particular reasons why this current trip is significant.

West Germany's prime political issue is unification with East Germany. Up to now that issue has been tightly linked with the questions of disarmament and European security in all discussions of a general European settlement.

But lately President Eisenhower has indicated that he is eager to undertake some kind of limited, experimental disarmament effort with the Soviet Union—regardless of developments in related fields.

The Germans are deeply worried over this because they believe that if disarmament becomes separated from reunification, the effect will be make permanent the partition of Germany.

Mr. Eisenhower's task manifestly is to convince Adenauer, and through him the West German people, that this is not so, that we will not slacken in our attempts to achieve a unified Germany within the context of a secure Europe.

The price of failure in this task could be high, since Adenauer must stand this September in new German elections. To carry home an unsatisfactory answer on this big question would be to predispose himself to defeat.

The almost certain winner would be the West German Socialist party, which is committed to seeking a deal with Russia, Germany's withdrawal from the vital NATO defense orbit and its own disarmament and neutralization.

Adenauer obviously is one of America's and the West's firmest friends. And Germany's place in NATO is a key one. We cannot afford to see a staunch ally converted into a weak and pliant neutral.

Reassuring Adenauer and the West Germans at this moment is a delicate assignment. But it is one that President Eisenhower dare not fumble.

A LESSON FROM THE ROBINS

During a hot day in May two robins were fighting at a bird bath, thus preventing each from bathing. Then something happened. They quit fighting and bathed side-by-side.

Free men living in a union of friendly states have learned that more is gained by working together, but in many parts of the world men are still fighting.

THE COATTAIL RIDERS

President Eisenhower now has made it clear that in 1958, as before, he will support Republican nominees for the Senate and House regardless of the backing they give him in Congress.

But he removed any doubt that he will give enthusiastic aid to those who consistently oppose him within the party.

Apparently he has come to the point where he expects nothing from such lawmakers and intends to give as little as he can in return.

That little he chooses to give, not out of liking for the politicians involved, but because he wants the Republican party to win control of Congress. In other words, he wants their votes in the one situation where he seems sure of getting it—the organization of the House and Senate.

Some of these gentlemen, who in past times have sought to ride well up on the President's coattails, may find in 1958 that they're clinging to the fringe by their fingernails. They won't even have an arm free to put around Ike in another burst of short-term friendship.

CONTROL GOES WITH MONEY

The plan for having the federal government provide $2 billion in federal aid to the nation's schools over a four-year period drew this comment from Senator Knowland: "My practical knowledge of Washington leads me to the conclusion that nothing terminates in four years. And I have never seen the Federal Government contribute money without wanting to exercise control."

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE GREAT GAME OF BASEBALL

There was a time in American life when every boy knew how to play baseball and the one who did not was so exceptional that he would have been called a sissy. Today, a fellow who cannot rock-N-roll is a square, but if he does not play baseball, he might be an all right guy anyhow because times have changed. Perhaps there is less decorum than when we were younger but what do you want of a fellow, he should go back to the 1890's, like the President said?

Baseball developed into a business with certain big clubs ooperating for private profit. The ambition of many a boy was to be permitted to join such a club, for a salary. Baseball players were men of distinction and their business managers were regarded as gentlemen and nobody objected to the profit they earned out of the national sport, as that was considered as part of the situation. Also wherever there is a profit, there is a risk of a loss, and it was presumed that on occasions there were losses, which these men of mercantile valor, such as Jacob Ruppert, took in their stride.

That has been the business situation in baseball for a great many years and probably there would have been no change in it but for the automobile and television. The automobile requires that ball parks have enormous parking facilities or the enthusiastic onlookers do not come to the games because they do not wish to fight their way through traffic to get to the ball parks and have no place to park.

This is a universal problem, not limited to any one particular business. Supermarkets and department stores have solved it by placing their new stores where there is lots of room, with plenty of parking space. When a problem is approached from a business standpoint, it can be solved by engineering, salesmanship and other devices.

Television has, of course, made it more comfortable for some to sit at home and watch a game on television, along with junior and the missus, and a bottle of beer. So the ball clubs have to decide whether they can make more money on television and advertising or by selling tickets at the door. This is a business proposition and requires business handling and is no reason why the New York taxpayer should underwrite the profits of baseball, any more than of the circus, of the theatre, or any other private enterprise. The Metropolitan Opera and the museums are different; they are not private businesses and they make no profits.

Now two New York ball clubs, the Giants and the Dodgers, both distinguished for their great histories, find their ball parks no longer suitable for their business purposes, and wish the City of New York to provide new ball parks out of the taxpayer's money. If these clubs get this special advantage, the Yankees will have the right to ask for equal treatment which means another raid on the New York City treasury by a private enterprise. It would appear that a deal can be made by these clubs with Los Angeles and San Francisco. The clubs would have increased travelling expenses if they went to Los Angeles and San Francisco which is a business problem and may pay off or not.

At any rate, here is another subsidy problem, like the subsidies which the Federal government gives to all sorts of elements in the population. The question then arises whether it is advantageous to the New York City taxpayer to subsidize these private ball teams or not. How many citizens really care whether these particular ball teams remain in New York or go elsewhere. The logical place for them to be is out in the suburbs where there is room for them. But with television available, how much closer to the viewer emotionally is one club or another because of geographical ownership?

I can remember a time in New York, when all the newspapers were on Park Row and when men stood for hours in the blazing sun just to see a score board. There is nothing like that today. A man can go into a saloon and see a ball game on television for the price of a beer. Sic transit gloria mundi! And the taxpayer wants to keep his money.

INVENTORY OF YOUR HEALTH

Yesterday we were talking about constructive medicine—treatment of the apparently well in an effort to construct greater health. The ideal situation for the application of constructive medicine exists in the periodic health inventory. A health inventory is much more than a routine physical examination. Its purpose is not merely the discovery of disease, although naturally such discoveries are highly valuable, but it is an analysis of the health of the patient, plus the discovery and correction of conditions and situations which could lead to difficulties in the future. Anticipation, which is applied foresight, is the keynote.

The inventory must not be limited to a physical examination and examination of blood and urine but must include observations of the person's way of life, interests and habits. For example, the hard-driven businessman, with one set of interests and a one-track mind, may or probably will be suddenly retired. What happens? It is an old saying that under such circumstances we will sign his death certificate within a year. But, knowing this in advance, do we do anything about it before the man retires? Do we warn him? Do we point out that if there are many interests instead of just one, traffic can be stopped on that one line without upsetting the whole system because it can continue on other lines? Those things can be anticipated and forewarning is part of constructive medicine.

The periodic health inventory has not been popular for some time. Why? Largely because it was usually rather random and poorly carried out with the attention on the discovery of disease. If no outward evidence of disease was found, the usual comment of the doctor was something like: "I can't find anything wrong with you, you're all right." This attitude stems from the old-fashioned idea that health is the absence of disease. As one young physician put it to me, "I don't like doing a general physical examination as I don't know what I am looking for." In the periodic health inventory, you are looking for everything. It must include explanations or efforts at guidance toword future greater health. What good does it do to record physical findings on a card and then file it away without instructing the patient how to improve his state of wellbeing? The most important item of such a consultation is instruction, encouragement, and education of the patient.

The likelihood of living longer is with us but not with full health and continued accomplishment. Sacrifice of depth and breath for length is not profitable. Mere duration is not enough; what is more significant is the character of living. The task in applying constructive medicine to adults is to build greater health, both mental and physical. We no longer have the choice of dying young or living into a ripe old age. In the past only the toughest and most fit survived but today the young often survive into old age full of disabilities, handicapped and a liability to the community. With constructive medicine, we can hope to help many GROW into old age with continued usefulness.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington, (NEA) — The United States has "underdeveloped areas," too. For instance:

In Lewis County, W .Va., state unemployment records showed 90 people out of work. Then they made a survey. It showed 1,200 adults with incomes of less than $500 a year. Because they lived on small farms they had been counted as employed. But they all wanted jobs to earn a decent living.

And in Choctaw County, Okla., it was found that a third of the county's income came from federal and state welfare money.

Out of hundreds of situations like these has come an increasing awareness of the federal government's Rural Development Program. Its aim is to raise the standard of living in America's more backward communities.

IN CHOCTAW County, for example, local businessmen furnished the materials, and labor pitched in to build a factory which was leased, rent-free, to a glove manufacturer.

In Monroe County, Ohio, a Rural Planning and Improvement Committee" was formed in 1954 when it was discovered there were 4,000 people available for work. A 90-million-dollar aluminum plant was brought in to employ 2,000 of them.

In Watauga County, N. C., 568 women showed up for jobs when a new clothing factory opened to employ 100.

And so it goes in 24 states as 49 pilot counties and eight trade areas of several counties each show what can be done.

THE RURAL Development Program was launched by President Eisenhower in 1955, but in two years it has barely begun the job.

In the 49 pilot counties there are 1,100 farms. Eighty-one per cent have sales of less than $2,500 a year. This is below the standard subsistence level.

There are 4.8 million farms in the U. S. today. This drop of 1.2 million since the end of World War 2 was caused by increased commercial farm productivity. Even so, there are still 1.5 million farms with total sales of under $2,500 a year or a net income under $1,000. This does not include a mill "residence" and non-commercial farms.

In getting the Rural Development program going the committee set up by the administration has offered federal assistance to state and local committees in building up their backward counties.

The program has had a two-million-dollar budget this year. Of this, $640,000 has been for payment to the states to employ extension workers, $447,000 for soil conservation, $400,000 for research and surveys.

PRESIDENT Eisenhower asked for a doubled budget for next year.

This suggestion was turned down by the House Agriculture Appropriations Subcommittee under Rep. Jamie L. Whitten (D.-Miss.), a strong believer in rigid, high-price support levels.

Whitten and his committee recommended that "all funds now being used for the Rural Development and other special programs at the state level be diverted to help provide salary increases for county and home demonstration agents."

Rather than helping the poorer farmers to find new sources of off-farm income, the Whitten committee recommended that "it would be better to raise the prices small farmers receive, and let them farm."

Rural Development funds may be restored by the Senate. But as things stand now, the program faces liquidation.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

June 4, 1937 — An estimated 600 boy scouts from various parts of Ulster and Greene counties arrived at the state armory grounds here for a campo-ree.

A move was under way to establish an uptown bus terminal on North Front street.

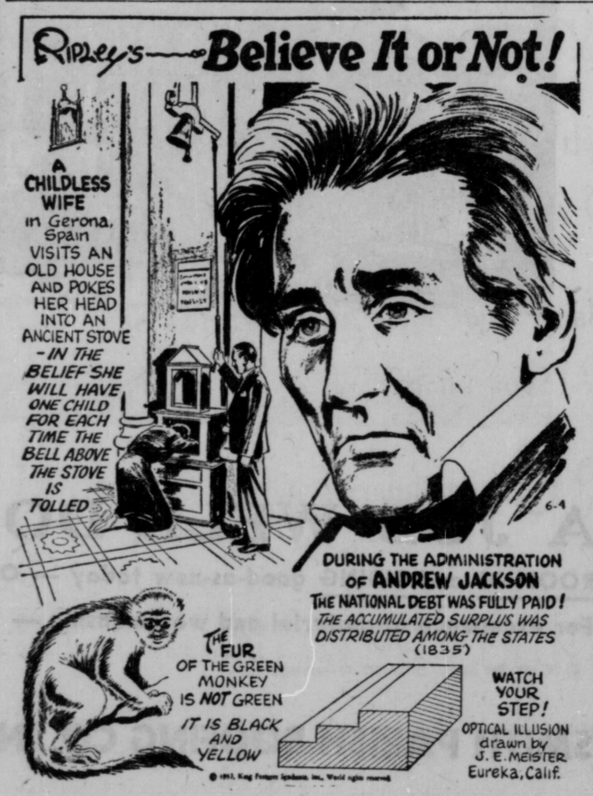

Labor disputes were anticipated at three shafts on New York city's water works project in the Lackawack area.

June 4, 1947—A total of 534 births was recorded here for the first five months of the year.

A petition to Albany from Woodstock asked that the latter be excluded from a proposed three-town school centralization.

The Kingston Patrolmen's Association was due to discuss plans for a pay-boost referendum.

A white frost was reported in mountain areas of the county.

Crusade Extended

Evangelist Urges More Sermons on Sex Immorality

New York, June 4 (AP)—Preachers need to do more talking about sex to help curb a rise in immorality that threatens the life of the nation, Billy Graham said last night.

"The Bible talks about it plainly," Graham told a crowd of 17,000 at Madison Square Garden. "Ministers need to preach about it. We've been too silent about it."

Called Biggest Danger

Graham fired some straightforward comments on the subject, declaring that a current danger to America—greater than communism— is the corruption of sexual standards.

He said pornographic literature, improper dress, idleness of youth, and even educational trends have given impetus to sexual license and crimes.

"I don't think America will ever be destroyed by communism," he said. "If it is to be destroyed, it will be destroyed by moral deterioration from within."

Sexual immorality, he said, "has destroyed more nations than any other single sin."

May Ruin Nation

The evangelist, on the 20th night of his New York crusade, said increased leisure time spent in "idleness, luxury, entertainment and amusement leads to immorality."

"I tell you," he said, his fist slamming on the pulpit, "it will ruin this nation unless we find something constructive to do with our leisure time."

Mutual desires of male and female, Graham said, "are Godgiven," and he added that "there is absolutely nothing wrong with sex. It is neither moral nor immoral—it is amoral."

But he added: "It is the wrong use of sex that the Bible condemns. . . ."

Crusades to July 21

The sponsors of Graham's meetings, the New York Crusade Executive Committee, decided yesterday to extend the drive beyond its scheduled June 30 termination at least until July 21.

Roger Hull, executive vice president of Mutual of New York Insurance Co., and chairman of the committee, said the action was taken because of the "gathering momentum" of the crusade.

"The success of the crusade thus far demands that it be extended," he said.

So far, attendance at the meetings has totaled 347,000, with 12,145 of them—501 last night—stepping forward to "accept Christ." Data about each is referred to local churches.

No Help Needed

Seattle (AP) — A Polish man and his wife spoke excitedly in their native tongue as they peered from an airline on a flight out of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Arthur Skelton of Seattle, homebound from an educators' conference, turned to the man helpfully and volunteered: "That's the Pentagon building." "I know," replied the Pole in perfect English. "I work there."

Use of Plywood Rises

There has been a 74 per cent increase in the use of hardwood plywood in American homes since 1951. Yet the hardwood plywood industry in the United States has shown an increase of less than 1 per cent during the same period. The difference in figures is attributed to the large quantity of plywood being imported here from Japan and other foreign countries.

Krushchev's Talk Viewed As Retarding World Peace

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 3—As commanding general for the Communists in the "cold war," which reaches around the globe, Nikita Khrushchev has suffered a defeat of his own making. By his television address, he has retarded rather than forwarded the cause of world peace. For, within the last few weeks, it had been believed in official Washington that the Soviet government was really serious about disarmament and had stopped playing propaganda tunes in an earnest effort to reach some kind of initial agreement.

But the Sunday speech by the Communist leader has restored suspicion and distrust, if indeed they had been entirely dissolved.

To offer, for instance, as Khrushchev did, to withdraw Soviet troops from East Germany, Poland and Hungary, on condition that the United States move its forces out of Europe altogether, is to deal frivolously with a major problem in world affairs.

Misjudges Free World

Indeed, for a Soviet dictator to assume that the American people or their government would be so naive as to consider such a proposal is to reveal the shortcomings of the Communist mind itself. It knows so little about world affairs and the simple rules of military protection which free peoples have a right to apply in their own interest.

For if the United States withdrew its forces from Europe, the free countries would be vulnerable to sudden attack. The United States in two world wars has had to send its armies across the Atlantic Ocean to rescue Europe but there wouldn't be time to do this in a third world war.

Wants Free Rein

What Khrushchev wishes the American people to ignore is the importance of the strategically placed air bases overseas which the United States now can use and which are vital to the defense of free Europe. What the Communist dictator is proposing is not merely that American ground forces be withdrawn to this continent, but that all overseas bases manned now by American planes—and soon to be equipped with guided missiles containing atomic warheads — should be given up.

Meanwhile, the big bombing planes of the Soviet Union can reach every one of the free countries of Europe—all of which combined are not themselves strong enough to face the Communist forces and would be at the mercy of the Kremlin. What Khruschev is suggesting is a form of voluntary surrender by the West. Every one knows, too, that the populace of the Western countries fear attack and that if there were no defense available with the aid of America, infiltration into all countries by the Communist sympathizers would be made easier.

Why NATO Was Formed

The next war will have to be fought quickly, and retaliatory action will have to be taken instantly. There will be no time for America to negotiate for the use of overseas bases or to send planes and equipment across the ocean. That's the reason why the Senate of the United States broke precedent a few years ago and ratified overwhelmingly the North Atlantic treaty. This treaty says explicitly that an attack on any one of the 15 member countries is to be considered the same as an attack on the United States itself. It calls for immediate war—even without a resolution by Congress.

Now the spokesman for the Kremlin wants America to give up this strategic advantage—this deterrent force — in exchange for a paper withdrawal of Soviet troops from East Germany, Hungary and Poland.

Every one knows that, when the Russian troops stationed in Hungary at the time of last year's outbreak defected, there were other Soviet troops quickly brought in to replace them. Moscow has its generals and its commanding officers inside every satellite country and in their local armies. All the premiers in the various satellite states have a Russian training and Communist background. So to say that things will be materially changed just because the Russian armies move back a few hundred miles is to tax the credulity of the leaders of the Western world.

The Stalinist Line

Khrushchev had the audacity to tell the television and radio audience of this country that, if war came, capitalism would be destroyed but Communism would survive. This is what Molotov used to say when he was in power and there was talk of a possible third world war in which atomic and hydrogen bombs would be used. Khrushchev is repeating glibly this line of Stalinist argument. He parrots it before an American audience which he thinks will shallow such absurdities.

If an atomic war comes the blame will be plainly placed on the Communist leaders by the people of Soviet Russia. It will spell the death of Communism, because the survivors would bitterly resent the war into which they had been plunged.

What Khrushchev really fears is internal revolution now. He probably wouldn't dare to let an American spokesman talk freely to an audience of Soviet citizens over the television or the radio or in the press of the Soviet Union.

Khrushchev himself has shown how impossible it's going to be for the American government or any Western government to make "deals" or negotiate agreements with the men in the Kremlin—the scheming enemies of freedom.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

New York, June 4 (AP)—With a few hot spells and heavy rains the song of the power mower is heard in the land. And this year for the first time, makers say, the ladies are shopping for the mechanized grass clipper.

Makers are expecting a keenly competitive year. They entered the big selling season with a fairly heavy inventory. And on the demand side was the disquieting drop in home building.

About '56 Rate

Unit sales for the industry are running so far at about last year's rate, although some individual makers predict this will be their biggest year for unit sales. For all 1956 the industry sold 3,200,000 units, at around 250 million dollars at retail.

Industry leaders differ on prospects for dollar sales volume.

One large maker — outboard marine's lawn-boy division of Lamar, Mo.—points out that retail prices have tended down since the industry really got going 10 years ago. In 1946 retail sales averaged $122.30 per mower. In 1956 the average price paid was about $78.

Another large maker—Toro of Minneapolis — believes dollar sales volume will rise this year. Officials point out that homes being built this year are larger and located on bigger plots—tempting new owners to buy mechanical help in lawn clipping. They add that more of the self-propelled rotary type motors are being sold, as well as more riding mowers—the most tempting of all for a man with a really noble lawn and aging legs. Many of the new mowers have larger cutting width and cost more. Toro says its sales currently are running 15 per cent ahead of last year.

Expect Sales Peak

Montgomery Ward reports it is selling seven power Wardmaster's to every one of the hand variety, and that more of the higher priced models are selling this year. It looks for a dollar volume sales peak.

Fairbanks-Morse reports current sales at an all time peak, with 25 per cent of its sales being of the riding mowers. It notes that self starting models are getting a response from women—who formerly mostly left mower buying to their men.

Since 1946 the industry has sold 17 million power mowers and thinks about 12 million of these are still in use. The replacement market is now beginning to grow fast. Last year replacement sales were about one third of the total. This year some estimate they will approach one half of all sales. This makes for stability in an industry that has seen some shaking out, as happened with many other appliances.

The Lawn Mower Institute of Washington, D. C., says there are so many small or local manufacturers that a total for the industry is hard to come by. Some industry leaders think there are about 200 in the field, with maybe 75 having more than local reputation, and four or five of the big ones doing around 80 per cent of the business.

Sparking the postwar boom in power mowers, according to Lawn-boy officials, are several factors: Since World War 2 leisure time has increased steadily—and the more time off the job, the more the homeowner is urged to shorten home chores and be off for the beach or the fishing hole.

Home Mean More

There has been a big increase in the number of individually owned homes — meaning more erstwhile apartment dwellers now clip the grass. As a general thing incomes have moved higher, furnishing the wherewithal to buy items for easier living.

The American Petroleum Institute has just taken note of this new gadget on the domestic scene. It has a committee on off-the-job safety, headed by J. H. McKenzie, of Socony Mobil Oil, New York. One of its many tasks will be to provide safety information for the operation of motor driver lawn mowers.

Arab Bloc Plans Tighter Israeli Economic Squeeze

Cairo, June 4 (AP)—The nine-nation Arab League says it is going to tighten its economic squeeze on Israel.

The league's economic committee decided last night to:

1. Blacklist motor firms that sell vehicles to Israel.

2. Blacklist foreign firms under contract to furnish Israel services or goods.

3. Set up a unified boycott system to control exports and imports between Arab states and others in order to prevent Arab good from reaching Israel and to prevent Israeli products from reaching Arab nations through intermediaries.

The Arabs in the past have blacklisted only a few firms for doing business with Israel. The chief effect of the boycott against Israel has been to bar Israeli shipping from the Suez Canal and to close the oil pipeline across Saudi Arabia to Haifa.

The council, which has been conferring 10 days, also called for an Arab Congress to meet in Cairo next February to try to unify Arab policy on oil, main resource of the Middle East group.

Hyde Park Firemen Have New Ambulance

Hyde Park Fire Department last week placed into commission a new ambulance to replace a 1939 vehicle which the Hyde Park Department turned over to the Roosevelt Fire Department. The Hyde Park department had used the ambulance for five years, during which period it covered 5,000 miles.

Chief James Traudt said the new ambulance, which cost $9,400, added that a fire radio had been installed in the ambulance. Capable of carrying four patients, the ambulance participated in the parade at Hyde Park on Memorial Day. The Ambulance corps is in charge of Captain Malcolm Kinney and Lieutenant Donald Allhusen.

Dr. John Moscow of New York writes, "I hope you approve of the bidding of this hand. I only had 16 points for my three no-trump response but I felt that my two ten spots justified the slam bid."

I do approve of the bidding, and the play as described by the Doctor is even better.

The Doctor won the opening club lead with his ace and went right after spades. West dropped a low diamond on the second spade and things looked real bad. Dummy's jack of diamonds was allowed to hold the next trick and a second diamond lead was held by declarer's king. If West had won the second diamond the hand would have been a cinch from then on since East would have been squeezed in spades and hearts.

West's double holdup made things very difficult but Dr. Moscow managed to make the hand by an end play against East. He ran the club suit and noted that East discarded two hearts and the ten of diamonds.

Now the Doctor had a real problem. East held two spades and three other cards. Were all three hearts or were two of them hearts and the other a diamond?

Dr. Moscow decided that West's first discard would not have been a diamond if he had started with only four diamonds and hence West would hold both missing diamonds.

The ace, king and another heart were played and East was in and had to lead away from his jack of spades to give the Doctor his twelfth trick.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

In the last few days mail for this column has come in faster than I can use it, so I hope the readers who wrote have patience until I come to their particular items. Here is a letter from Charles A. Bowers of 79 Abeel street, who writes me from Oswego. "I always read your articles in The Daily Freeman when I am home. I read about the celebration in June this year that they intend to have on the Hudson River. I read a lot and work a lot on the Hudson. I have not seem much about Cornell Steamboat Co., until about a month ago when I happened to see the enclosed clipping in a Marine Reporter magazine. You might also ask, Mr. Haegel, down in Cornell's for more information. I hope to be home next month and will like to read about the Cornell Steamboat Co."

He writes further: "I am an engineer on a New York tug boat running up to ports on the Great Lakes. I am now on my way to a place called Clarkson, near Toronto, Canada. . . . . I think any company that is 120 years old this year deserves to be mentioned as a good many men from Kingston and vicinity have worked for Cornell and I am sure they would like to read about it, too." I do hope other boatmen who have worked for our local Cornell Steamboat Co., will send in items.

Mr. Bowers sent this clipping from the Marine Reporter: "Cornell Steamboat Co. celebrates Anniversary. This year the Cornell Steamboat Co. celebrates its 120th anniversary of navigation on the Hudson river. Founded with a single sloop in 1837 by Thomas Cornell, member of Congress and elector of Benjamin Harrison, the company operated both freight and passenger steamers between New York city and upstate. One of Cornell's earliest steamboats, the Norwich, was built in 1837 after designs by Robert Fulton and operated continuously on the Hudson until 1910."

Item further reads: "About 1890, after merging with other lines, the Cornell Steamboat Company became the only one with regular towing service on the Hudson. As the oldest towing company in existence, Cornell is still the only organization providing such service to all points on the river. Though recognized as specialists in flotilla service, Cornell also handles special tows and oil barges, not only on the Hudson but in New York Harbor and adjacent waters as well." With this item is printed a splendid photo of the famous Norwich.

This week also received a splendid postal card of the Hendrick Hudson, Dayline boat, going under the Poughkeepsie railroad bridge. The date of the photograph is not given, nor is the sender's name enclosed. Just the same I wish to thank my sender of this handsome photo. If at any time, senders of items do not wish their names mentioned, all they have to do, is say so in letter or on item. I receive many such items and letters.

I think this photo shows the Hendrick Hudson coming down the river, and approaching the Hudson River Dayline dock for a landing at Poughkeepsie. The Brinkerhoff ferry can be seen in the background. The Hendrick Hudson is crowded with passengers and the way I make out the style of ladies hats, I would say it is around the mid-1920's.

Al Capp Heads Kenny Fund Drive

Al Capp, creator of the world-famous comic strip "Li'l Abner," appearing daily in The Freeman, has been named National Volunteer Chairman of the 1957 annual fund appeal of the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation. Originally founded in 1943 to bring the Kenny treatment to American polio sufferers, the Foundation in recent years has expended its program to include the treatment and rehabilitation of victims of other neuromuscular disabilities, including amputations, multiple sclerosis, arthritis, strokes and spinal cord and other injuries. Capp, himself an amputee, will direct the drive to raise $4½ million, starting early in September.

In addition to the famous "Li'l Abner" feature, Capp is a co-author of the comic strip "Long Sam." He was recently named chairman of the People-to-People Committee, formed by the country's leading cartoonist at President Eisenhower's request to promote better understanding among the people of different nations.

No Panic; Just Haste

Tulsa, Okla. (AP)—The operator of a grill in a downtown building that filled with smoke from a recent fire moved his customers out in a hurry, yet averted a possible panic. Joe Saffa, the operator, spoke up loudly as the smoke flowed into the room: "Forget about your checks and keep calm. Don't get excited." The place cleared in record time.

Homes Shaken Monday, Blast Reports Are Made

Shortly after 4 p. m. Monday, homes in several parts of the city were shaken by an apparently heavy detonation believed to be a blast.

The Kingston Police Department received several telephone complaints from residents of the areas about the "blast."

The police blotter showed the first call at 4:13 p. m. from Mrs. Edward L. Merritt of 36 Warren street. Other notations were as follows:

4:15 p. m.—Joseph Kelly reported that his home at 256 Hasbrouck avenue and the home next door at 258 Hasbrouck had felt the effects of a blast of some kind.

4:15 p. m.—Peter Camp, 46 West Pierpont street, called to report his home "shook up."

4:16 p. m.—Mrs. William Stanley, 13 East Union street, blast concussion.

6:14 p. m.—Robert Williams, 22 Linderman avenue, a late call to report the same blast.

A call to Callanan's Road Improvement Co., South Rondout, revealed that a blast had been set off in the quarry about 4 p. m.

Illness Delays Trial

Hartford, Conn., June 4 (AP)—The trial of Joseph L. Taborsky and Arthur Culombe, who police said have admitted six holdup killings, was delayed today by illness of one of the lawyers. Superior Court Judge James C. Shannon told the jurors there might be a further delay tomorrow. The special public defender for Taborsky, Wallace Burke, was ill.

Harriman Makes

the special session that the Democratic governor has called. Republican leaders have declared the GOP-controlled legislature will repass the bills that were passed at the regular session and vetoed by Harriman.

Both bills would increase maximum weekly benefits from $36 to $45. Included in the unemployment insurance bill was a provision for higher payroll taxes on employers — particularly in seasonal industries which drain the fund more than industries with stable employment. The workmen's compensation bill provided for additional court reviews in certain cases.

Both political parties favor higher benefits.

But Harriman called the other provisions in the bills "booby traps," which he said would overbalance the good the increases would provide.

Asks Separate Action

Harriman contends that the benefit increase should be acted upon separately by the legislature, and that other changes in the two laws should be considered at the next regular session.

The governor last night dared the Republican leaders to permit the senators and assemblymen of their party to vote "freely" at the special session. If they do, he said, "we've got a chance to win."

"We are going to smoke out the Republican leaders," he said, "and find out whether they are afraid that their proposals for changes in these laws cannot stand up if considered separately on their merits."

Cites Union Appeals

Harriman said the Republicans "lied" in charging that he acted against workers in vetoing the two bills passed at the regular legislative session. He said union leaders were unanimous in urging him to use the veto.

The governor also said the Republicans "lied" in saying that he was a "captive," variously, of the garment industry, the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, and the Liberal party which contributed materially to his election in 1954.

The Liberal party has strength among employes of the garment industry, a seasonal industry. The Republicans have said that Harriman called the special session to pay off a political debt to the Liberal party.

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 4 (AP)—Du Pont resumed its gyrations in an otherwise mixed stock market early this afternoon.

Key stocks fluctuated from fractions to around a point but Du Pont lost around 5 points as it continued to react to yesterday's U. S. Supreme Court decision that it violated the anti-trust laws in acquiring 23 per cent of General Motors stock.

General Motors fell only a fraction. Du Pont was down 2½ at the opening, cancelled most of this loss, then took the sharper dip.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 20 cents to $183.70 with the industrials down 70 cents, the rails unchanged and the utilities up 10 cents.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were irregularly higher in fairly active trading.

Corporate bonds declined slightly in slow trading.

U. S. government bonds were lower in slack dealings.

White Sands Proving Ground, N. M. (AP)—What is labeled the first filling station for rockets and guided missiles is in operation here. Vols Plan Long, occasion. The Colonial Cadets of Port Ewen have been engaged by Ulster Hose No. 5. The Cadets are a junior drum corps which has been doing a fine job as a musical unit.

The 22nd annual convention and parade will be held in the town of Ulster on July 11, 12 and 13 with Ulster Hose Company No. 5, as host company. Plans are in full swing for the event and the firemen will have some of the finest entertainment available for the occasion.

Tickets for the banquet and entertainment will be available at the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association meeting at Plattekill this month.

Parade Starts 5 P. M.

The parade on Saturday, July 13, will start at 5 p. m. at the armory on North Manor avenue and proceed north to the Chambers School on Albany avenue extension. The revieweing stand will be mid-way on the route at the Johnson property on Albany avenue extension. Judges for the parade will be announced later.

Trophy winners of the parade will be announced at the "Hell Drivers" show Saturday night, July 13, at Dietz Stadium.

Shows at Stadium

As an added attraction for the firemen, Ulster Hose Company No. 5, will bring to Kingston Al Krom's "Hell Drivers" July 12 and 13, at the Dietz Stadium. This show is packed with thrills and spills for exciting entertainment for all. Mr. Krom and his drivers will put on a full two-hour show with his daring drivers crashing through a brick wall, driving through a wall of flames, a five-car leap at a tremendous speed and crash into a bus, roll overs and a climax of a five car race which has never before been featured in stunt driving.

Chairman Fischang predicts a record crowd to witness this exciting show to be staged by Al Krom and his driving team. The show is open to the public both nights.

deepfreeze and washing machine.

Kennedy charged that these items were furnished Beck Jr. by Nathan Shefferman, Chicago consultant on labor affairs to employers. Kennedy said Shefferman was repaid with union funds. He said the items for Beck Jr. totalled more than $5,000.

McEvoy took the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions about business deals which Kennedy said were arranged by Beck Sr. and financed with teamsters funds.

Beck Jr. had invoked the Fifth Amendment 130 times, and McEvoy 90 times, Beck even refusing to say whether he knows his own father.

If they can get by with that, Chairman McClellan (D.-Ark.) said, "then America faces a great danger. Law enforcement can break down all over the country."

Resumes Thursday

He told the staff to start at once preparing a contempt citation and said the Senate would be "derelict in its duty" if it failed to vote a contempt citation that would send the cases to the Justice Department for prosecution.

The committee spent about an hour and a half putting questions to Dave, Jr., and McEvoy, then adjourned its session until Thursday. It will begin then an inquiry into the Bakers Union.

Sees President

dent's requests. Emphasizing its position, the Senate voted 67-0 its final approval of the measure.

That bill, the fourth to clear Congress, increased to $461,756,784 the amount Congress has cut from Eisenhower requests totaling $5,523,375,784.

In turn, Eisenhower asked Congress yesterday for 149½ million dollars in additional funds to operate the Post Office Department in the next year. He said that unless Congress increases the $3,192,000,000 it already has voted, mail service will have to be curtailed July 1.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said this request will be given "thorough study." But he added that "whatever Congress feels is justified will be appropriated for the Post Office."

Johnson told the Senate it was making "an excellent record" in carrying out "the type of economy that the American taxpayers are demanding."

New Pleater Tape

A new scalloped pleater tape should make it a cinch for the home seamstress to whip up handsome cafe curtains in a jiffy. The scalloped tape is prestitched. The right side of the tape is faced to the right side of fabric and is pasted or pinned. The tape is sewn along the top edge of pockets, following the outline for scallops. The scallops are then cut out to within ¼ inch of stitching. The tape is then turned to the wrong side of the fabric and the bottom edge of the tape is sewn to the fabric.

Secret Files . . .

greater than that attendant upon the possible disclosure of state secrets and other confidential information in the government's possession."

Clark's dissenting opinion said that unless Congress changes the new rule established yesterday, "those intelligence agencies of our government engaged in law enforcement may as well close up shop."

Any person familiar with federal government problems, Clark added would quickly recognize that the decision "opens up a veritable Pandora's box of troubles."

Refuses Comment

Jencks who now resides in Albany, Calif., refused to talk about the decision.

Among other actions yesterday the high court:

1. Called for reargument next term of two appeals raising the issue of constitutionality of a section of the Smith Anti Communist act which bars "knowing membership." The section makes it a crime to belong to the Communist party while knowing it advocates violent overthrow of the government. The cases involve Junius I. Scales Communist party leader in Tennessee and the Carolinas, and Claude M. Lightfoot, Chicago Negro.

2. Called for reargument next term of an appeal which questioned validity of a Los Angeles ordinance requiring persons convicted of crimes to register with the chief of police.

3. Refused to reconsider its April 29 ruling that the board of city trusts of Philadelphia could not bar Negroes from Girard College. The college, a private school, was established more than a century ago for "poor white male orphans" under the will of Stephen Girard.

4. Decided 7-1 that the Taft-Hartley Act authorizes federal courts to compel employers to observe provisions in collective bargaining courts to compel employers to observe provisions in collective bargaining agreements calling for arbitration of grievances. Justice Douglas' majority decision was protested in an 87-page dissenting opinion written by Justice Frankfurter. Justice Black took no part.

Where are the small hotels of yore, nestled by bay or sea? Vacation landmarks, by the score, well known to you and me. The big verandah (front and sides); the high-back rocking chairs. In by the desk the card with tides — for anglers' eager stares. The ancient room—clerk's happy smile, if you recalled his name. The furnishings (rococo style) each year were just the same.—Alas, the small hotel is gone—or disappearing fast. The grand motel is marching on—shining and new and vast. With swimming pool and TV sets and space for 90 cars. And very soon (I'm laying bets!) they feature cocktail bars. This thing called Progress (so they say) is mighty all-fired swell. Get in the fine-car swim at the low Ford price!

There's no need to pay a "fancy price" to enjoy fine-car luxury. Ford is lowest priced* of the low-price three, yet offers values you'd expect only in cars costing far more!
To start with, you can easily pay twice the money, and not find lines that can hold a candle to Ford's for lowness, loveliness, or just plain good taste.
But step inside. That's when you'll find the real evidence of Ford's quality!

And, on the way in, note that Ford offers door checks that hold doors open in either of two positions—for easy entrance or exit. A little thing. But, in a fine car, why not? Then, inside, notice how comfortable those plush, foam-rubber seats are. They'll stay that way. And on long trips. For they're scientifically contoured over non-sag springs. Your rear-seat passengers are treated extra kindly, too—with spring assists to help them open and close the doors—with the most leg room in Ford's field!
Fine cars are smooth—and that's another place Ford really shows its stuff!
Ford delivers its famous V-8 power smooth as a whisper. That's because only Ford takes the pains to electronically balance each engine while running under its own power. Not even the makers of the most costly cars go this far to bring you super-smooth performance!
Ford rides fine-car smooth and quiet, too. You can thank the new "Inner Ford" for that. Ford, for instance, has a swept-back front suspension that actually "rolls with the punch" of every road bump.

Ford's rear springs automatically adjust to give the right ride for every road. And Ford keeps things quiet, with the most sound insulation in its field.

Fine cars are built to stay solid. So's Ford!
Ford has the only frame in its field to make use of rugged tubular steel beams. No car at the price offers so many roof-strengthening beams. Expensive cars aren't built of thicker body steel or with sounder engineering skill. Then, of course, in Ford you can have all the power assists and other conveniences found in fine cars. And they cost far less in Ford.* Yes sir! In every feature, every part, Ford is the fine car at half the fine-car price. Come in and see!

NARCE to Meet Saturday, Last Until Sept. 14

The last meeting of Ulster County Chapter 461, National Association of Retired Civil Employees, for the summer will be held Saturday at the YWCA, it was announced today.

William J. Cipolli Sr., publicity officer, said it would be the final meeting until September 14, 1957.

He urged any persons interested in the association to attend.

In his notes to The Freeman Mr. Cipolli reported:

"Our last report is that we now have over $7,000,000,000 in our fund, but unless we act as one great unit it will continue to grow as our cost of living has been doing. Why should we not be getting the assistance of this fund when it is so badly needed to offset this living cost increase? Our representatives know this but unless we make ourselves heard all we will get is a lot of double talk. Charity begins at home. Let us practice this.

"It is very encouraging to read how active our chapters are in other areas. This makes us look as though we were standing still. Our goal is 100,000. We now have 90,000. We have a very fine chapter in Kingston. Let's keep our town in front.

"Our hospitalization plan is now in full gear and going over in a big way.

"At this time I want to emphasize that at no time have we asked for an appropriation for increase in our pension. So, there is no room for our economy-minded lawmakers to make excuses in their budget argument.

"As we gave our country the best we had while in active service we will continue to do all in our power to preserve this mandate.

'Dairy Month' Named

Albany, N. Y., June 4 (AP)—Gov. Harriman today designated June as "Dairy Month" in New York state. In a proclamation, the governor asserted that New York ranked second among daily states in the nation, with almost a million and a half cows, returning to their owners almost 400 million dollars a year income. "Dairying is by far the most important segment of our agricultural economy," Harriman said.

Eight presidents of the United States were born in Ohio.

Temple Emanuel Drive Nears $200,000; Shavuoth Impetus

Temple Emanuel's campaign for its new building received added impetus today with the announcement that its total neared $200,000.

Spurred by the Jewish holiday to be celebrated this evening and tomorrow, the campaign committee is preparing an all-out effort to reach every member and friend of Kingston's oldest Jewish congregation to rally their support.

The holiday, "Shavuoth," or Pentecost, commemorates the delivery of the "Law" to Moses at Mt. Sinai.

To Keep Voice Alive

"The Revelation that took place thousands of years ago, in the wilderness, when the Divine Voice was heard midst the thunders and lightning, is to be celebrated this evening and tomorrow by all those to whom this Revelation still has significance," said Richard M. Kalish, general chairman of the campaign. "It is particularly appropriate that we renew our decision to accept these Divine Commandments by raising a beautiful new edifice, dedicated to Him whose voice was, in accordance with Scripture, heard by all the people. We have committed ourselves to keep this voice alive here in Kingston and we can think of no better way of doing that than by successfully completing the campaign for a new Temple which we started some weeks ago."

Evidence of the determination to reach the $250,000 goal was seen by the organization of the general solicitation committee, under the joint chairmanship of Mrs. Leone Gross, Dr. Jeremiah Gross, Dr. Jeremiah Sachs and Robert N. Nadler.

This committee consists of six solicitation teams. Co-chairmen of the teams are as follows:

Team A—Herbert Kletske and Mrs. Saul Goldfarb; Team B—Dr. Walter H. Meyer, Mrs. Irving Josephson; Team C—Robert A. Ronder, Mrs. Herbert Kletske; Team D—Dr. David A. Gerbarg, Mrs. Arthur H. London; Team E—Richard A. Hulnick, Mrs. Jeremiah Sachs; Team F—Bernhardt S. Kramer, Mrs. H. Jacobs.

Assisting these co-chairmen are:

Mrs. Sam N. Mann, Mrs. Robert N. Nadler, Mrs. Alfred D. Ronder, Mrs. Edwin Wetterhahn, Jay Melton, Stuart Svirsky, Roger Silberman, Paul Mezer, Mrs. H. Schwartz, Mrs. Leon Gray, Mrs. Roger Silberman, Mrs. Victor Randel, Mrs. Julian Lohre, Mrs. Sidney Sayles, Mrs. David A. Gerbarg, Mrs. Morton S. Honig, Dr. Leon Gray, Dr. H. Schwartz, Dr. Herbert Martin, Dr. Sidney Pauker, Mrs. George Goldfarb, Mrs. Samuel Greenspan, Mrs. Harry Gold, Mrs. Paul Mezer, Mrs. Milton Dubin, Mrs. Daniel Weisberg, Mrs. Edward Berns, Mrs. Leonard Bard, Mrs. I. Kunst, Mrs. Joseph L. Kramer, Mrs. David Zucker and Mrs. Pauline Gilbert.

The new Temple Emanuel will be erected on Albany avenue, one of the choice locations of Kingston.

The $250,000 drive was opened at a rally on May 19 under the leadership of Richard M. Kalish and Joseph E. Honig, as co-chairmen. Judge Harry Gold is chairman of the challenge gifts committee and Arthur B. Ewig, Herbert K. Greenwald and Adrian Kaplan are co-chairmen of the special gifts committee.

Dr. Herbert I. Bloom, the present rabbi, has been the spiritual leader of Temple Emanuel for over 25 years.

White flowers decorated the altar for the occasion. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace posed over bridal satin fashioned with a fitted bodice, short sleeves with matching gauntlets and a modified sweetheart neckline. The bouffant lace skirt featured side cascades of crystal pleated tulle and swept back into a circular court length train. A bridal cap of matching lace, seed pearl trimmed, secured the three quarter length French illusion veil. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and glamelias.

Mrs. Ronald Vernooy was the matron of honor in a gown of pink silk organza fashioned with a fitted bodice, draped neckline and a full floor length skirt featuring a back bustle. She wore a half hat of braided straw to which was attached a circular tulle veil. Mrs. Vernoo carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses with pale blue ribbon.

Mrs. Jack Schoonmaker and Miss Phyliis Ann Kotrady were the attendants. They wore gowns of nylon chiffon in sea green styled with shirred bodices, boat necklines and short sleeves. The full skirts were floor length and they wore headpieces of braided straw with circular tulle veils.

They carried colonial bouquets of yellow rosebuds with yellow ribbon.

Teri Lynn Kotrady, sister of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid. She wore a gown of white nylon chiffon of sea green styled with a fitted bodice, draped neckline and a full length skirt. She also wore a matching tulle tiara and carried a colonial bouquet of pink rosebuds with light green ribbon.

Flower girls were Gail Marie Lukaszewski and Kathy Lynn Smith, cousins of the bride. They wore gowns of white chiffon over pale pink styled identically to that of the junior bridesmaids. They also wore tiaras and carried colonial bouquets of pink feathered carnations.

Harry Lang of Kingston was the best man. Serving as ushers were Ronald Vernooy, Robert Scott, Jack Schoonmaker and George M. Kotrady Jr.

James McElrath, cousin of the bride, was the child ringbearer.

A reception was held at the Governor Clinton Hotel for approximately 65 guests.

Federation of Women's Clubs Holds 66th Convention; Membership Increase Urged

Asheville, N. C., June 4 (AP)—The General Federation of Women's Clubs opening its 66th annual convention today, was asked not to "eye the educated with suspicion."

"The complexity of the world we live in" demands that "we have skilled leadership in the world today," said Miss Chloe Gifford of Lexington, Ky., first vice president.

"No longer eye the educated with suspicion or refer to the intellectual individual as an egghead or a high brow," She urged in a prepared speech.

Miss Gifford followed the keynote theme of the convention —"Knowledge Is Power"—set by Mrs. Robert I. C. Prout, president, in her report to more than 2,500 delegates assembled for the first business session of the four-day meetings.

She also warned of "one of our paramount dangers — the growing loss of individuality."

Miss Gifford wondered whether "we are fast becoming a nation of spoonfed individuals," molded by mass media of TV, radio, newspapers. She held that "this is a time and hour that call for greatness" and noted that this country having "assumed the leadership of the peoples of the world," has "colossal obligations."

"I am not afraid or pessimistic about the future," she added, "there is no reason why this world cannot be secure from war, free from hunger, relatively safe from disease; but all these and many more problems, require lots of sound thinking, lots of clean living, dynamic leadership, and prayers to our merciful heavenly Father for guidance and constructive action."

Mrs. Prout, of Wakefield, Mich., also stressing the importance of education, said in a prepared speech that Americans are rediscovering that "the most important thing in the world is ideas with ideals."

"American ideals of freedom can only approach realization when our citizens participate intelligently in public affairs and apply the lessons of history to current problems.

She called attention to the federation's education program and its "Oscars for teachers" awards, giving "long overdue" recognition to top teachers. This year's awards will be announced at Thursday's session.

Another major item on the convention agenda is the vote on resolutions Wednesday. Mrs. Prout, citing the significance of these resolutions said, through them "we establish the policy of our organization. By this authority, we have made our voices heard in legislative hearings."

Six top officers of the federation presented reports on activities during the past year and Mrs. Prout proclaimed the federation "ready to meet the ever-changing problems of the times."

She listed $18,000 collected by member clubs for a special Care program for Hungarian refugees in Austria.

Mrs. Dexter Otis Arnold of Concord, N. H., recording secretary, said she looked on the federation as "one of the finest workshops in the science of human relations."

"If civilization is to survive," she said, "we must learn to live and work together" and "women's clubs are an educational medium by which personalities evolve into their finest expression."

The federation represents 11 million members, including international clubs in 51 countries, according to Mrs. Carroll E. Miller of Missoula, Mont., third vice president.

She told the delegates to "face the facts" that in 68 years of continuing growth, "less than 1/80th of the women of the U. S. belong to federated clubs."

"Think of it," she added, "approximately 82 million women are not working with us in our tremendous program in adult education and service."

It shows that the membership can be expanded, she said, and called for a "bold new membership program."

Indiana and Virginia were credited by Mrs. Miller with showing the biggest membership gains in the past year.

In a report on veterans affairs, Mrs. C. E. Walker of Sturgis, Mich., chairman, said $85,098 was collected for special veterans administration voluntary services.

Connecticut got credit from Mrs. W. E. Brentzel of Fargo, N. D., chairman of the women's division as excelling in women's participation in public affairs. Colorado, she added, reports 370 women in appointive and elective office.

Smith of Poughkeepsie 1-Hits High School, 4-1

Allan Smith pitched a one-hitter and struck out 15 as Poughkeepsie High trimmed Kingston High, 4-1, yesterday, at Dietz Stadium in the final game of the year for both clubs in the DUSO League.

Sam Janeczek's clean single to center as the first hitter up spoiled Smith's no-hit bid.

The 15 strikeouts tied a seasonal record for the league. Smith's opponent yesterday, Rennie Giannuzzi, whiffed the same number hurling against Port Jervis.

Faces 28 Batters

Smith, a righthander who was pitching his last game for the Pioneers, faced 28 batters. He didn't walk anybody until the last inning when he issued two free tickets.

Except for Smith, the Pioneers looked little like the newly crowned DUSO champs that they are. All their runs resulted from flubbs and only three of their seven hits figured in the scoring.

The Maroons kicked the ball around four times in the first inning, opening the flood gates for three runs. Lee J. Nelson and Caulder Rogers got the only hits in the nightmarish frame.

Another boot paved the way for the Pioneers other tally in the third after Giannuzzi had given up a hit to Ronnie Levine and wild pitched him into scoring position.

Kingston's lone run was also tainted. Janeczek scored it after singling. Errors back-to-back on ground balls with two down got the Maroon second sacker over and ruined Smith's chance for a shutout.

7-1 Record

Poughkeepsie finished with a near perfect 7-1 loop mark. Overall, the Pioneers are 14-1 which is the best record in the area. They play Roosevelt Central in their finale today.

Kingston wound up even in the circuit at 4-4 and in third place behind Newburgh. The Maroon stands 4-9 altogether and meets Catskill today in its last game at the stadium.

Trade Talk Also Circulated

Yanks' Weiss Denies Report Of Friction With Stengel

Cleveland, June 4 (AP) — The New York Yankees have lost nine of their last 15 games, they've been fined for playing night games in a plush saloon—and the panic button's been pushed. Trouble is, it wasn't the world champions who did the pushing.

Word leaked out yesterday that the club had fined Hank Bauer, Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra, Billy Martin and Whitey Ford $1,000 each, and Johnny Kucks $500, for that fracas in a New York nightclub early in the morning of May 16.

The report no sooner was confirmed by the players than up popped:

2 Reports Circulated

1. A report that Bauer and Martin are on the trading block.

2. A report that Manager Casey Stengel and General Manager George Weiss are on the outs.

Bauer and Martin commented it's great to be a Yankee, with Martin adding "I hope it doesn't happen. I'm afraid to think how it would feel to play against the Yankees."

Bauer has been mentioned as trade bait since before spring training. So has Martin, particularly since the nightclub incident which broke up his 29th birthday party.

Billy The Kid and Mantle are pals, and rumor has it the Yankee front office is afraid Martin may give Mantle some bad habits.

It was reported yesterday that Martin, Mantle, Bauer, Ford and Mickey McDermott had been fined $250 each less than a year ago for missing a train in Boston. McDermott since has been traded to Kansas City. Another trade, naturally, could break up the remaining quartet.

Newcomers To Click

Berra, a three-time winner of the American League Most Valuable Player award, and Kucks apparently are newcomers to the crowd.

Kucks, admitting he was fined $500, at first was thought to be among the $1,000 sufferers, prompting Stengel to observe "that poor boy oughtn't to be fined the same as the rich players."

Stengel and Weiss denied any friction between them, with Weiss pointing to "the results of our eight years' association" and terming the report "deliberately malicious."

While the club has neither denied nor confirmed the fines, Bauer was among the first to admit he had been docked.

Smith Beats Port for NFA, 9 to 2

Freshman southpaw Bob Smith, supported by three home runs, tamed Port Jervis on a three-hitter 9-2, for Newburgh Free Academy yesterday at the Hill City. It marked the final DUSO League game for both clubs.

Smith struck out 13 and walked just two in a brilliant effort. Marty Corcoran got two of the three hits off the stylish portsider who is just 15 years old.

Billy Cotton, Al Beccaccio and John Currey homered to pace the Goldbacks at bat. Beccaccio and Currey hit theirs with one aboard while Cotton's was a solo shot.

Cotton also stroked a triple and so did teammate Len Henderson.

Lefties Bill Pepper and John Romeo hurled for the Red Raiders with Pepper the loser.

The victory was NFA's fifth as compared to three losses and gave them a second place finish. Port wound up at 3-5 (8-7) overall) and fourth . . . . .

Joy's 'Landlocked Salmon' Brownie Under Microscope

Another fish mystery has been unraveled, thanks to some painstaking sleuthing by Ulster county's renown angler, Chet Joy.

Awhile back, Joy landed a fish in the Upper Esopus, above Phoenicia's main stream, which either was a brown trout or a landlocked salmon. Both species are almost similar in appearance and thus hard to distinguish.

Since landlocked salmon are a rare catch hereabouts, Joy decided to satisfy his own curiosity and brought the catch to Poughkeepsie and had it examined by State Conservation Biologist Cecil Heacox. After studying the fish closely for a couple of hours, Heacox positively identified it as a brown trout.

Fin Does It

The identifying mark which sets the salmon apart from the brownie is the color of the adipose fin, which is a small soft tab near the tail. On the brownie, the fin is orange-red spotted or fringed in a red-orange coloration. The salmon's fin is dark mottled.

Joy is justly proud of his unique catch. It has the largest girth (13 inches). It measures 18 inches in length. It weighs four pounds. It was the largest specimen of its kind ever taken by Joy.

Heacox said that it is one of the most outstanding specimens he has ever examined. A microscopic study of the scale formation revealed that the brownie was in its fourth year.

Joy is the former president of the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club and is currently serving as its vice-president. He also holds the post of chairman of the fish committee of the Federation Sportsmen's Club of Ulster county.

Sawyers Drop Finale To Highland, 8 to 5

Great relief pitching by Dave Burdash lifted Highland High to an 8-5 upset win over Saugerties High yesterday at Highland.

Burdash came in with the bases loaded and one out in the fourth and struck out the next two batters to snuff a rally. He went on from there to pitch two-hit shutout ball.

The setback was the second in succession for the Sawyers after clinching the UCAL championship and marked the end of their season. Coach Bill Straub's team finished with an impressive 14-3 overall record. In the league, they were 9-3.

Highland built up a 6-2 lead in two innings and then held off the visitors. Coach Bob Relyea's club tapped starter Dick Elliott for three runs in the first and then routed him in the next round with another cluster of three. The big blows in the first were singles by Dave Williams and Phil Bezzaro.

In the third, Williams tripled to drive in two markers and trotted over when Bob Valentino singled.

Valentino went 3⅓ innings and got credit for the win. He was extremely wild, walking seven and was tagged for five hits.

Elliott, who was charged with the loss, was followed by Skip Kugelman, who hurled through the fifth, and Jim Erceg.

Highland's victory was its sixth in the UCAL against five defeats. Today it travels to Marlboro for its finale.

Set July 29 Date For Title Bout

New York, June 4 (AP) — promoter Emil Lence has $175,000 for radio-TV rights and a definite date, Monday July 29, for Floyd Patterson's first heavyweight title defense at the Polo Grounds.

Although Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson, the challenger, told newsmen he would like to fight for nothing "to make the world happy", his manager, Lippe Breidbart, already had assured him of 20 per cent. Patterson will get 40 per cent for this rematch of a June 8, 1956 fight that he won on a split decision.

Lence announced his deal with a television network (NBC) and sponsor (General Motors) at a press luncheon yesterday and revealed New York and a surrounding 75-mile area would be blacked out on TV.

Jackson is a 4 to 1 underdog.

Podres Tabbed No. 1 Stopper Of Dodger Staff

(By The Associated Press)

Johnny Podres Brooklyn's stubby southpaw emerged as the Dodgers' No. 1 "stopper" today, just when Manager Walt Alston had decided to crack down on his slipping National League champions.

The Brooks, who had lost seven of their last 12 games to fall into fourth place for the second time this season, read a "No more race tracks" order from the skipper yesterday after dropping four in a row. Alston figureg his champs were chumps for the horses and weren't paying enough attention to baseball.

Then along came Podres snapping Brooklyn's losing skid with a net three-hitter that quieted the ambitious Philadelphia Phillies 4-0. It was Johnny's fifth victory his fourth shutout—and the second time he has called a halt to a Dodger slump.

Stopped Last Skid

The last time the Brooks lost four in a row this season, it was the 24-year-old lefty who bailed them out, pitching a six-hit, 5-0 decision over the New York Giants, May 12.

With the victory over the Phillies, the Dodgers climbed into a third place tie with the idle Milwaukee Braves, three games behind the first place, and idle, Cincinnati Redlegs. The Phils, who have lost only two of their last eight in their surprising surge, remained in second place, 2½ games short.

The Pittsburgh Pirates made it three in a row over New York by beating the Giants 6-5 last night in the only other game scheduled in the majors.

Podres' ERA 2.05

Podres, who dealt a three-hit, 1-0 shutout against Pittsburgh in his last start, struck out nine and walked four while dropping his earned run average to 2.05 last night, and salvaging the finale of a four-game set in Philadelphia.

The Dodgers, who had been out-hit only once during the four-game skid, smacked nine hits—including Gil Hodges' sixth home run and Gino Cimoli's sixth, too—to beat Don Cardwell, one of the Phillies' bright rookies. Cardwell gave seven hits, struck out seven and walked but two before giving way to a pinch hitter in the seventh.

The Pirates, swinging for 11 hits off five pitchers, ran up a 3-0 lead in the second against starter Ruben Gomez, then came back with two in the third against loser Joe Margoneri after the Giants had tied it in the top of the frame.

American LL Pays Tribute to Anderson

Late President Extolled In Pre-Game Ceremonies

American Little League, oldest small fry circuit in the city, launched its 1957 season yesterday with impressive pre-game tributes to the late Harold D. Anderson.

In the baseball game, the 1956 champion Dodgers upended Mike Ferraro and the Red Sox, 5 to 4, with a run in the bottom of the sixth.

The Dodgers unveiled a standout pitcher in Ronnie Thomas, who stopped the Red Sox with three hits, struck out 13 batters and aided his own cause with a double and two singles in three times at bat. The lad is only 11 years old.

Ferraro, the 1956 All Star pitching hero, was nicked for seven hits and struck out nine but was stymied by a shoddy defense.

Dan Pugliese, rallied from a first-inning strikeout to smash a pair of doubles and first baseman, Bob Smith of the Dodgers also had two hits. The three Red Sox safeties went to Dan Ryan, Bob Ploss and Wayne La Moree

Eulogize Late President

In the pre-game ceremonies several speakers paid tribute to the late Harold D. Anderson, former president of the Little League Association who was killed in an auto accident.

Hubert Richter, new president of the LLA, eulogized Anderson as an outstanding Little League man whose career had been marked by unstinting service and accomplishments.

Vernon J. Kelder of Ellenville, district representative of Little League, also praised Anderson and the men who are conducting Little League ball today.

Charles J. Tiano, Freeman sports editor, who was master of ceremonies, also introduced Raymond Radel, president of the National Little League; Warren F. Smith, LLA treasurer and Willard R. (Bill) Thomas, American LL president.

All Stars Cited

Kelder presented 1956 All Star pins to the following members of the American LL All Stars: Frank Fay, George Tomson, Michael Ferraro, Vince Smedes, Ed Corcoran, Dan Pugliese, Tom Cioni, Ron Ellis, Len Bovee, Jim Bruck, Eric Broberg, Wayne Elmendorf, Robert Black and Jay Herrington.

Tony Erena Jr., a member of the league in 1956, who is incapacitated this year, threw out the first ball.

Before the game the two teams and officials marched to the flagpole in center field for the national anthem and a moment of silent tribute to Harold Anderson.

Cornell Oarsmen To Race in Thames Reggata

Henley-on-Thames, England, June 4 (AP) — Eight American boats including Cornell's undefeated eight, are entered in the famed Henley Regatta on the Thames, July 3-6.

Cornell and probably Yale will race for the grand challenge cup against crews from Russia, France, Sweden, Holland and Britain.

A spokesman for Yale said in New Haven Conn., that the Elis definitely would compete if they beat Harvard June 15 and "the boys come out of it (the race) in good shape."

Cornell hopes to wind up an unbeaten season with a third straight victory at the Intercollegiate Rowing Assn. Regatta at Syracuse, N. Y., June 22. The Big Red has beaten Yale twice this year.

Princeton's 150-pounders, unbeaten since the end of the 1955 season will defend the Thames Challenge cup.

Order Monaghan To Show Cause

Albany, N. Y., June 4 (AP)—The State Harness Racing Commissioner today faced possible punishment for allegedly refusing to comply with a court order that he process an application for a harness racing license.

Justice Isadore Bookstein of State Supreme Court yesterday signed an order directing Commissioner George P. Monaghan to show cause by tomorrow (11 a. m.) why he should not be held in contempt of court.

Bookstein directed Monaghan last Wednesday to process the license application of T. Proctor Eldred, a Utica banker and a director of the U. S. Trotting Assn. (USTA). Eldred filed the application last March.

Monaghan and the USTA have been involved in a running feud.

The show cause order was served on Monaghan through the Attorney General's office.

Monaghan has been unavailable for comment.

Rest Easy

If you want to get a good night's sleep it is a good idea to eliminate noise and light, and slow down a bit before bedtime. Learn to relax before retiring. There is a constant interplay between mind and muscles, each stimulating the other so it's a good idea to quiet down before going to bed. Light reading helps some people sleep while others find an exciting TV show tends to pep them up too much at bedtime. Be sure sleeping equipment is in good shape. If mattress is old, get rid of it. A good firm mattress that cradles the body from head to toe is ideal for proper rest.

Time-Saving Tip

When putting up a great many studs . . . as in the finishing of an attic . . . there's a way to avoid the seemingly endless measuring to get them 16 inches on center. Put up the first one, then the second, being certain the center of the first is exactly 16 inches from the center of the second. Then cut a piece of wood that fits snugly between the two studs. After that, you use the wood as the measuring stick—with no chance of making a mistake in one of the measurements.

Long-Ball Lifts Trips to Victory

By The Associated Press

Binghamton's long-ball hitters lived up to their reputations last night for a home town Eastern League victory.

Deron Johnson, the Triplets' 18-year-old slugger, smashed a two-run homer in the 12th inning against Albany for a 7-5 triumph.

Frank Leja, another long-ball specialist and a bonus player, cracked another two-run round tripper that tied the score in the eighth inning.

While Binghamton was polishing off the Senators, Schenectady downed Reading 3-1. The victories solved nothing about first place in the league. Schenectady and Binghamton remain deadlocked in first place.

In the other game, Springfield's Gene Matty pitched a five-hitter for a 6-0 shutout of the Syracuse Chiefs before the second largest turnout of Springfield fans this season, 6,208.

GETTING TO BE A HABIT—Although bowing to Highland High Monday, Saugerties High closed out another successful baseball season. Smith Sentenced To Chair for Slaying Girl, 15

Hackensack, N. J., June 4 (AP)—Edgar Smith, handsome ex-marine, was sentenced today to die in the electric chair for the bludgeon slaying of 15-year-old Victoria Zielinski.

Bergen county Judge Arthur J. O'Dea pronounced the mandatory death sentence. A jury found the 23-year-old Smith guilty of first degree murder on May 28 without making any recommendations for mercy. O'Dea set the week of July 15 for execution.

The sentence now goes to the State Supreme Court for an automatic review.

Shortly before the sentence was levied, Defense Counsel John E. Selser asked for a delay on the grounds that he had new evidence "that perjury was committed in this case."

He said that "since the verdict was announced, I have finally got some people to talk."

"As a result of my investigation since the verdict, I am more than ever convinced that Smith is not guilty of the murder for which he has been found guilty."

Baptists Finish Session, Chicago Move Undecided

Philadelphia, June 4 (AP)—The American Baptist Convention concluded its 50th annual session today after leaving up in the air a decision on moving its headquarters from New York to Chicago.

Delegates at huge Convention Hall shelved the decision after hours of debate, parliamentary confusion and two votes by slim majorities in favor of Chicago.

A third vote ruled the previous balloting "indecisive" and turned the controversial question back to the 40-member general council for another year of study. This action carried by a vote of 1,025 to 569.

With some members absent, an earlier council vote had favored Chicago by a 17 to 14 margin.

The final action also leaves undecided the ultimate location of the American Baptist Publication Society with its printing plant and the board of education, located now in Philadelphia. Baptist publications have been produced in the Quaker City since 1826. More than 300 staff members are employed here.

DOWN THE HATCH—A cat nip is just not enough for "Dickie Boy," who downs a hearty belt of milk from a baby's bottle in the best elbow-bending fashion. The acrobatic feline, owned by Beth Margaret McGee, of Rochester, N. Y., downs its milk in this manner unassisted, scorning the usual saucer.

Court Suspends Sentence in Market Case

William Kiley, former meat department manager of the Grand Union store, Albany avenue, was placed on probation by County Judge Louis G. Bruhn Monday in County Court and imposition of any sentence at this time was suspended.

Kiley was originally charged with grand larceny, first degree, growing out of irregularities at the market which were discovered during an investigation of a stick-up at the market sometime ago as the manager, William E. Kelly, was leaving with the daily receipts for deposit. The stick-up has never been solved and the charge against Kiley has nothing to do with the stick-up.

First Count Dismissed

Kiley entered a plea of guilty to a second count of the indictment and the first count was dismissed on motion of counsel.

John Gotelli, attorney for Kiley, told the court Kiley had never been in trouble of any kind before, was the father of five children, and had become involved in the situation "quite innocently." The situation had "snow-balled" and Kiley became deeply involved. However, he told Judge Bruhn, Kiley had cooperated with the authorities to the fullest and as a result had been instrumental in clearing up the situation which involved several employes. He said steps toward restitution had been taken and the Grand Union had asked that leniency be shown.

DA Agrees on Leniency

District Attorney St. John said Kiley had cooperated fully with the authorities and he felt some consideration should be shown for the aid given the prosecution.

Judge Bruhn said in view of the good prior record, the cooperation given and the recommendations of counsel and the district attorney he would suspend imposition of any sentence and place defendant on probation for the maximum term. The first count was dismissed.

Bockman Case Adjourned

The case of William H. Bockman, Ellenville, charged with sale of narcotics, was postponed until June 17 on motion of Ellsworth Baker, counsel, who was substituted three weeks ago. Baker asked for additional time to prepare for trial since he had just come into the case. Judge Bruhn adjourned the matter until June 17 at 2 p. m.

Several cases were moved over to Wednesday at 10 a. m., others to June 10 and 17.

Bernard Brown was arraigned on a charge of burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry. A plea of innocent was entered. Brown is charged with burglary on December 8, 1956, along with Earl Brown and Charles H. Williams.

A grand larceny charge against John Williams and William Harris, was moved over the term. Hubert Richter is counsel for defendants.

Set down for disposition on Wednesday was a grand larceny, first degree, charge against Kenneth Long. Bernard Feeney appears for defendant by assignment.

The case of Samuel Joseph Wood, burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry, was moved for disposition at chambers today. Charles Saccoman for defendant.

Edward Caswell, a teacher and coach at Pine Plains Central School, is slated for election as commander of the Dutchess County American Legion at the 30th annual convention at the Hasler-Kamp Post Hall, Pawling, Wednesday night, it is reported.

If elected, Mr. Caswell would succeed incumbent Commander Bluford Jackson, a Pawling post member.

Mr. Caswell, a member of Shacameco Post, Pine Plains, has served as a county vice commander for the past year. Other vice commanders are James V. Spratt, Hyde Park; Ronald Thornton, Wappingers Falls, and Philip Giamportone, Poughkeepsie.

The Legion will also elect four vice commanders, a treasurer, adjutant and an executive committee when it meets at 8 p. m. The convention will also elect delegates to the state convention in Syracuse August 1 and 3.

Japan Welcomes Girard Decision

Tokyo, June 4 (AP)—Japanese officials tonight welcomed the United States' agreement to let Specialist 3c William S. Girard stand trial in Japanese court for the death of a woman on a U. S. firing range.

"We are really pleased that the United States will observe the decision of the joint (U. S.-Japan) committee," said foreign ministry spokesman Shinichi Kondo.

Strike Strands 30,000

Paterson, N. J., June 4 (AP)—Drivers for the Inter-City Bus Co. failed to report for work this morning and some 30,000 North Jersey commuters had to find other means of transportation. The company with terminals here and in Maywood said the drivers began calling in "sick" around 5:30 a. m. "We have no idea what this is all about," a company spokesman said.

Girl, 13, Awarded To U. S. Mother

Warsaw, June 4 (AP)—A Polish Appeal Court today reaffirmed that 13-year-old Olga Bozyk should be handed to her American mother immediately.

The mother, Mrs. Monika Bozyk, of 5 Henry street, Rochester, N. Y., quickly made plans to fetch the child from Mrs. Irene Ostrowski, the 70-year-old Polish widow who has looked after Olga from infancy.

Mrs. Bozyk said: "First I have to persuade Mrs. Ostrowski to hand over Olga peacefully. I plan to do that right now.

"If I fail, six others of children who go to school with Olga have promised to come with me tomorrow to help enforce the court order."

Mrs. Bozyk arrived here in April for the closing stages of the long legal battle for custody of her child.
